

Rockland inns donate to local charity

ROCKLAND — Jan. 23, 2005 marked National Pie Day. The day also went down in history as "blizzard Sunday" in Maine. Despite the 12 inches of snow and howling winds, the group Historic Inns of Rockland went on with its Pies on Parade event to celebrate National Pie Day and benefit the Area Interfaith Outreach Food Pantry. Neither the wind nor driving snow kept almost 50 people away from pies presented by the six historic inns of Rockland.

Historic Inns of Rockland presented a check for $350 to Alice Dole, chairman of the board of the Area Interfaith Outreach Food Pantry, at the Lakeshore Inn in Rockland. The check represents the proceeds from the group's first Pies on Parade Tour.

Pictured from left, Frank Isganitis of the LimeRock Inn, Melissa Waterman of the Waterman House and Gardens, Pat Masson of the Lakeshore Inn, Alice Dole of Area Interfaith, Judy Waterman of the Waterman House and Gardens, Cheryl Michaelsen of the Berry Manor Inn, Jim Masson of the Lakeshore Inn and Ellen Barnes of the Captain Lindsey House.